NARA'S ANNUAL FALL CONFERENCE TO PROVIDE VITAL INFORMATION FOR THE SUCCESS OF REHABILITATION PROVIDERS & BUSINESSES

The National Association of Rehabilitation Providers & Agencies (NARA) will be hosting its Annual Fall Conference in Las Vegas, NV October 20-22, 2010. NARA, based in Washington, D.C., is a trade association that has supported the knowledge, advocacy, and unification of hundreds of rehabilitation therapy providers and agencies throughout the country for over 30 years.

NARA's Annual Fall Conference will provide timely information and networking opportunities to rehab businesses and professionals that will allow them to better understand and apply current legislative and regulatory updates to their practices / businesses.

"Many businesses and practitioners seem to be increasingly turning to NARA as a valuable resource and support network during these challenging times. With specific industry reform and legislation implementation occurring NOW, this year is more critical than ever for rehab businesses and professionals to participate in this type of event and association.", commented NARA President, Gregg J. Altobella.

The Annual Fall Conference will once again feature a "Pre-Conference" that is of significant value to participants via unique learning and networking opportunities. This year's conference will focus on current key topics such as changes to the MDS and HIPPA processes, as well as proper documentation and coding knowledge necessary for compliance and viability of business and practice models during times of change.
